A Day's Doings in Arizona

May Erect Concentrator
Joe Larrieu of Benson and C. E. Rule of Tucson are organizing a company for the purpose of erecting a concentrator at Paradise. They believe that a small concentrator to do custom work would not only be a paying proposition, but would stimulate mining in the Chiricahua district.

Shooting at Yuma
Frank Mendivil has been held to the grand jury in Yuma on a charge of assault with intent to kill. In an altercation with Edward Thurlow a gun in the hands of the Mexican was discharged, making a hole in the hat of his antagonist. Later the Mexican made the claim that the gun was discharged by accident, but he will have to show the district court.

Yuma School Bonds
The bonds voted in September by Yuma taxpayers have been passed by the board of supervisors. These bonds are in the amount of $10,000 and are to be used in improving the school grounds and to furnish the new school building.

Prescott Election Contest
The official canvass of the board of supervisors of Yavapai county showing the election of A. J. Herndon for treasurer by twenty-five votes and of H. D. Ross by six votes. There have been charges of fraud in these cases and it is promised that the contest will be carried into the courts.

Courtland Country Booms
A dispatch from Bisbee says the Courtland country is giving promise of becoming one of the great mining districts of the southwest as far as copper mining is concerned. The town of Courtland is growing in a way that indicates that it is to be a permanent camp of importance. Both the Copper Queen and Calumet & Arizona interests are in the field and developments of importance may be looked for from this country.

Kibbey to Washington
"I will go to Washington about the first of December and remain there until a single statehood bill for Arizona has been passed or it is assured that it will pass. This has been my intention right along." This is the statement of Governor Kibbey when asked if he would go to Washington this fall to assist in the fight for statehood.

Segregation of Colors
To learn whether it is legal under the Arizona law to segregate white and colored school children, G. T. Bell, a colored minister of Douglas, is in Phoenix for a conference with Governor Kibbey. Bell's wife has been arrested for not sending her children to school after the Douglas school authorities had declared that they might not be educated in the same room with white children.

Eggs High; Chickens Low
Eggs selling at 50 cents per dozen, wheat at $2.25 per hundred pounds and chickens, duck and turkeys cheaper than they have been for many years, is the remarkable condition in the poultry trade in the Salt River valley. Why the birds should be so low with eggs and feed so high is a mystery which the Phoenix papers are exerting themselves to solve.

Phoenix Consul to Italy
Enrique C. Lorente, Mexican consul at Phoenix, has been promoted to the position of consul general for Italy, with headquarters at Genoa. Senator Lorente will leave Phoenix to go to his new post about the first of December and will be succeeded in that field by Teodoro Elias, at present Mexican consul at Tucson.

Indigents in Phoenix
The estimate of Miss Chrissie Gilchrist, manager of the Associated Charities of Phoenix, says there are at present time one hundred and fifty indigents in the Capital City wholly dependent upon charity for support. This estimate does not include between thirty and forty who have some income but are partly dependent upon the organization.

Death by Natural Causes
The coroner's jury which inquired into the sudden death of Nathan Morrell, who died suddenly while eating dinner at Phoenix, returned a verdict of death by natural causes. The deceased had been a heavy drinker, and the presumption is that death was caused by heart disease induced by alcoholism.

Reopening Old Guard
The Old Guard Mining company, with properties near Tombstone, has been reorganized under the name of the Arizona Mines company, and it is probable that work will be resumed soon on the property. The company has a valuable group of claims which have shown well in the past, and the resumption of the company will be good news for the stockholders as well as the residents of Tombstone.

Barbecue at Glendale
To get better acquainted, celebrate the reopening of the sugar factory and promote the interests of that section of the Salt River valley lying to the northwest of Phoenix, the farmers of Glendale are making arrangements for a monster barbecue to be held near the Glendale schoolhouse Saturday, November 28.

For Stealing Cows
Believed to know what became of three fat cows which had disappeared from the ranch of Thomas Dennis, eight miles southwest of Tempe, if not actually guilty of stealing them, John Thomas, a Pima Indian farmer, has been taken to jail at Phoenix, where he will await an investigation of the case.

Appointed Health Guardian
Dr. E. S. Godfrey, formerly of Bisbee, but now of Tucson, has been appointed territorial superintendent of health to succeed the late Dr. J. W. Coleman, who died in Tucson last month. Dr. Godfrey was associated with the hospital departments of the large mining companies operating at Bisbee and is a young physician of much promise.

New Forest Headquarters
A recent order of the forestry department announces that from this time on all the forest reserves in Arizona except the north half of the Grand Canyon reserve, known as the Kaibab reserve, will be under control of District No. 3 of the service, with headquarters at Albuquerque. The Kaibab reserve will be under District No. 4, with headquarters at Ogden, Utah.

Cochise County's Wealth
The assessor's report shows that the total assessed valuation of property in Cochise county is $19,347,966.34, on which will be collected taxes to the amount of $411,530.47. The total number of taxpayers in the county is shown to be 4,872.

Secretary Resigns
Secretary W. D. Eastman has resigned as the head of the Douglas Y. M. C. A. and will go to Sacramento, Cal., the first of December. His successor has not yet been named. The Douglas newspapers speak very highly of the work of Mr. Eastman and much regret is expressed that he should leave that field.

$50,000 Damage Suit
Testimony in the suit of C. C. Jones for $50,000 damages against the Southern Pacific Railway company is being taken before Commissioner Charles H. Hitting at Yuma. The case was brought in the Kansas City courts, but is the result of an accident which occurred in Yuma, and the depositions of several witnesses are being taken here for use in the trial at Kansas City.

New Block for Bisbee
James Letson & Co. announce that they will at once build another business block on Main street in Bisbee, which will compare favorably with any that has yet been erected in that city. The new building will cost about $15,000 and the architects have been told to make haste, as the demand for floor space in the new building is urgent.

Work on Laguna Dam
During the past month the sluiceway on the Arizona side of the Laguna dam was about finished, while on the California side of the river the sluice gate piers were completed. Employees on the Laguna dam during the month of October numbered 625. The project is on the whole about 53 per cent completed.

Beat Mother-in-Law
"Road Lightning Gibbons," a noted character of Tucson, is in jail in that city on a charge of beating his mother-in-law. He is an old offender and is well known to the police as a man who strenuously tries to live up to his nickname.

Tourists Coming
Winter residents are already coming to Tucson and Phoenix in large numbers and the tourist season is beginning early. It is predicted that both cities will be crowded this winter with those seeking a mild climate in which to spend the frozen months.

Merchants' Brass Band
A movement is on foot in Tucson to organize a merchants' band in that city to give concerts at least once a week, and many of the tradespeople have signified their intention of making donations for such an organization.

Ball Player Suicides
Dispatches out of Los Angeles bear the information that the Bert Ross who suicided in that city last week was the same Bert Ross who played third base on the Tucson baseball team last year. No details are given and no reason assigned for the rash deed.

INSANITY PLEA DOES NOT DO THE WORK

STEVE CALLAHAN TRIED TO SUICIDE SIX TIMES WHEN HE COULD NOT

TOOK GOOD CARE TO MAKE HIS ATTEMPTS WHEN HE WOULD BE RESCUED

PHOENIX, Nov. 18.—Failing to convince the jury that he was insane, and realizing that there was nothing left to him but to face the charge squarely, Steve Callahan entered a plea of guilty in the district court to assault with a deadly weapon and will be sentenced by Judge Edward Kent.

An attempt was made to prove Callahan insane mainly on the ground that he had six times attempted to commit suicide since he was arrested, and placed in the county jail a short time ago, but in this Callahan rather more injured his case than helped it.

Evidence was introduced by District Attorney Bullard to show that for an insane man, Callahan had displayed remarkably good judgment in each of his attempts at suicide.

Instead of trying to hang himself in a well during the night time the door of his cell being locked, Callahan on each of the six occasions that he had tried to shuffle off this mortal coil made his attempt in the main corridor of the jail and always when between thirty and forty other prisoners were where they would discover him immediately.

So frequent were Callahan's imitation attempts at suicide that the rest of the inmates of the cell learned to look upon them as a joke. In each of them Callahan was able to stand on the floor of the jail and escape strangulation even after he had tied the rope to the steel bars.

Callahan was put on the stand by Attorney Marks and when questioned wisely said that he did not even know what he had been brought into the courtroom for, where he was, or anything about the circumstances of his case.

Dr. Win Wylie exploded this by relating a conversation he had Saturday with Callahan, in which the prisoner seemed in full possession of his faculties, and discussed his chances of getting out of trouble.

Callahan was arrested for firing several shots at Joe Phelps, a Mesa stage driver, after they had some words. His marksmanship was poor and his bullets all went wide of the mark. On this the charge of assault with a deadly weapon was based.
